Warranty Claim Pack

The evidence list, four-sentence claim, and escalation ladder

Complete free answer for V08. It does not promise a refund or replace product/state-specific legal advice.

1. Build the file before you contact support

- ☐ Receipt or other dated proof of purchase
- ☐ Downloaded/photographed warranty in effect on the purchase date
- ☐ Product name, model and serial number
- ☐ Photos/video showing the defect
- ☐ The exact warranty heading and sentence that appears to cover it
- ☐ Maintenance/repair records relevant to the failure
- ☐ Dates, names, claim numbers and written responses from every contact

2. Read these four parts of the warranty

1. Term: When did coverage start and end?
2. Coverage/exclusions: Which parts, failures, misuse or maintenance issues are included/excluded?
3. Claim path: Seller, manufacturer or administrator? Any required dispute process?
4. Remedy: Repair, replacement, refund, or a company-controlled choice?

3. Copy-paste written claim

Subject: Warranty claim — [product/model/serial]

I bought [product] on [date]. It failed in this specific way: [plain description]. The warranty section titled [heading] says [exact relevant language]. Please confirm the repair, replacement, or other remedy required by that warranty, and send the claim number and next step to me in writing by [reasonable date].

Attach copies of evidence. Keep your originals.

4. If they blame an outside part or repair

Use this calm follow-up:

Please identify in writing the specific damage you believe the outside part or service caused, the evidence for that conclusion, and the warranty term you are applying.

Federal warranty rules generally do not let a manufacturer require branded parts or authorized service merely to preserve coverage unless the company supplies them free or has an FTC waiver. That does not protect damage actually caused by an outside part, installation, misuse or poor maintenance.

5. Escalation ladder

1. Front-line support — request a claim number and written answer.
2. Warranty administrator or supervisor.
3. Any dispute-resolution process named in the warranty.
4. Short certified letter with copies and a response date, if the value justifies it.
5. State consumer-protection office / attorney general: usa.gov/state-consumer.
6. FTC report for deceptive practices: reportfraud.ftc.gov. The FTC does not resolve an individual dispute.
7. Small-claims court or legal advice where appropriate for the amount and your state.

6. Important boundaries

- “Full warranty” does not mean every accident or failure is covered.
- A paid service contract is separate from the factory warranty.
- Implied-warranty rules, “as is” sales and remedies vary by state.
- Do not threaten a lawsuit or demand a refund the warranty does not promise.
